In Life's Little Annoyances, Ian Urbina chronicles the lengths to which some people will go when they have endured their pet peeves long enough and are not going to take it anymore. It is a compendium of human inventiveness, by turns juvenile and petty, but in other ways inspired and deeply satisfying.

Times reporter Ian

Urbina describes these irritants and chronicles the lengths to which some people will go when they have endured their pet peeves long enough.

Some of the best ones I came across were how to get back at the annoying commissioned sales rep, the creation of

Despair, Inc., and The Cashier's Spelling Bee.
