A tarping system can easily pay for itself in a year's time simply through what you'll save in man hours. It'll take five to fifteen minutes to attach a hand tarp, while a tarping system can get the job done in seconds. Dump trucks generally need a flip tarp system--also called a front to back system or a mousetrap system,...

An expert system for cash management can be useful to both large and small businesses. Large businesses, that have experts specializing in cash management can benefit from an expert system for a number of reasons. First, an expert system would bring to bear a consistent set of knowledge in cash management problems.
